IMPOSITION

Citizens of Bangor & vicinity Take Notice.

☞ THERE is hardly an instance on record where a man of any enterprise has commenced in business and with great exertion and expense has become universally known but some one whose intellect being so obtuse that he cannot invent an original idea of his own, has attempted to impose upon the public by adopting the same name, or raising a sign of similar character. This mode of imposition deserves the severest reprimand from the mouth of every honest man.

I have been led to these remarks by noticing numerous advertisements in Bangor papers headed....

Main Pillar of OAK HALL.

I would most respectfully inform the citizens of Bangor and vicinity that I have no branch whatever of my establishment nor agency in any part of the United States. The above advertiser also states that he has withdrawn himself from OAK HALL, Boston. To that I can only say that my servant driver of Oak Hall Express, in Boston and vicinity, has withdrawn himself and I have substituted a Gentleman of Color in his place and with his new livery suit and beautiful steed is the admiration of all beholders.

☞ Issued this day from Oak Hall, City of Boston, 22d of July, 1844.

WRIGHT'S Indian Vegetable Pills, OR INDIAN PURGATIVE.

THOUGH many medicines have been before the public for a much longer period than Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, yet none stands now in higher repute, or has more rapidly attained a firm hold upon popular estimation. The thousands that have used them throughout the length and breadth of the Republic, all bear cheerful testimony to their thorough efficacy and mild operation, when employed in the most distressing disorders which "flesh is heir to." To those, however, who have not used them, who are suffering in the incipient or advanced stages of disease, and who are looking round for weapons wherewith to combat the Destroyer—intelligent inquirers, who must be satisfied with the theory and principle of a course of medical treatment, before they commence, it becomes necessary to make a few preliminary remarks on this invaluable medicine.

The theory of disease on which WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded is this, viz: That there is only one primary cause of all the disorders which afflict the human family, and that is corrupt humors—or, in other words, Impurity of Blood. This principle is now so generally admitted, that it may in fact be said to be sustained by an universality of opinion—the few dissenters constituting but a very feeble minority. It is useless, therefore, to discuss the soundness of this theory in this place and connection.

The ONE DISEASE PRINCIPLE being admitted, the mode of attack professed by all practition ers becomes the same, viz. Purgation. But many of the so called specifics now before the public produce only one form of purgation; they are either Sudorific, Catharitc, Diuetic or Expectorant—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills combine all these properties, and are therefore calculated to attack the elements of disease at all points, and by a harmonious and combined operation, to expel it radically from the system. Their effect is almost magical, and is no less astonishing for its mildness than its efficacy. Both sexes and all ages may employ them, according to the direction without fear, for while they are certain to cure ALL DISEASES that are remediable, they never inflict an injury upon the system.

The ORIGIN of this invaluable medicine entitles it to unlimited confidence and respect. The nearer we approach to nature, in our researches after truth both in science and art, the more complete will be our success in both. Look at the uniform physical condition of the Indian Tribes of this continent, whether exposed to the frosts and storms of the North, or to the rain, heat, and pestilential miasma of Southern climate. Houseless, unprotected, exposed to every atmospheric change, every extreme of the seasons, dwelling at times in morasses and by the margins of unhealthy pools and swamps—they yet enjoy an almost total immunity from disease, while the white man, who enjoys all the comforts of civilization, with its attendant arts, is as much inferior to the savage in physical vigor, as he is superior to him in intellectual acquisitions.—How does this happen? Simply because, bereft of the light of science, he relies upon that divine instinct which impels him to select from the produce of the field and forest those remedies which Nature and Nature's God has bounteously provided for the solace of suffering, and the mitigation and cure of disease rowing them broadcast on every hill and valley. Let those who impiously arraign the good justice of Divine Providence, and point with a sneer to the multitude of invalids who lie groaning upon beds of sickness, turn from the false lights of man, and study the secrets of nature, and they will adore that mercy which has so bountifully provided a cure for every wound—a remedy for all who seek one.

These Pills, as we before remarked, operate by purgation—by thoroughly cleansing the entire system from all impurities, and making the invalid, in the homely but expressive phrase, 'a new man': whether the disease is INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, which insidiously attacks the Lungs, producing that dry, hacking cough so painful to the friendly ear; or Cutaneous, showing itself upon the skin in eruptions or blotches; whether the Kidneys or the Bowels be affected—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are equally efficacious in warding off danger. Their expectorant cathartic, sudorific and diuretic qualities enable them to take hold of each form of disease.

The perfect safety of the medicine is another all important quality, and one which has contributed more than any thing else to its extension and popularity.

In a word, this medicine commends itself strongly to the patronage of the public, and its use bids fair to become, before long, ALMOST UNIVERSAL.

CAUTION:

The citizens of New England are respectfully informed that, in consequence of the great popularity which Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills have earned, by their astonishing goodness, a gang of Counterfeiters are now industriously engaged in palming on the unsuspecting a VALUELESS and perhaps dangerous medicine, under the name of Indian Vegetable Pills.

☞ BEWARE OF A. L. NORCROSS, of Halowell, Maine, who is selling COUNTERFEIT PILLS.

This is to inform the public that the genuine medicine has on the boxes—

"WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS."

—Indian Purgative

OF THE NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

And also, around the border of the label will be found in small type—

"Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1840, by William Wright, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania."

The public will also remember, that all who sell the genuine Indian Vegetable Pills are provided with a certificate of Agency, signed by

"WILLIAM WRIGHT, Vice President Of the North American College of Health:

And that pedlars are never in any case allowed to sell the genuine medicine. All traveling Agents will be provided with a certificate of agency as above described, and those who cannot show one will be known as base imposters.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF PURGATION. CORNARO'S Purifying and Preserving PILLS.

THE American public has for a long time been the victim of a false and dangerous system of medicine founded on the practice of LONG CONTINUED AND UNRELIEVED PURGATION. The evils of this old system are of the most wide-spread and alarming character. They have reached through every vein and artery of our nation.—In every city, and village, and hamlet—in every State and Territory of our vast Republic will be found those who have suffered, or who are still suffering from the injurious effects of this old system, of whose practical utility the disease, decay, and utter prostration of those who test it furnish the most condemning proofs!

COMMON DRASTIC PURGATION

Scours out the system by the most improper and violent means, and then leave it, weak, low, feeble, debilitated, to regain its strength as best it may. Sometimes the consequences of this old Purgative practice are worse than mere Debility. Inflammation of the Bowels, Slow Fever, Bloody Piles, and other horrible disorders are produced, simply from the want of some enlivening and preserving power in the medicine employed. Sometimes the digestive organs are deeply and permanently injured by this coarse and unphilosophical practice, leaving the patient AN INVALID FOR LIFE.

The alarming evils and absurdities of the old system of Purgation, have led to the introduction of a new Life-giving Medicine, called CORNARO'S PURIFYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, which are established on this new and only true principle of Purgation, viz.:

NO PURGATION WITHOUT IMMEDIATE RESTORATION.

The use of this admirable Purgative remedy strikes a death blow to that abominable system, which by continually evacuating the bowels without any conservative or saving power, so dreadfully and fearfully prostrates and injures the unhappy patient. These Purifying and Preserving Pills are believed to constitute the perfection of medicine, being a UNIVERSAL VEGETABLE PURGATIVE, containing two great remedies combined viz: One remedy to PURIFY FROM CORRUPTION, and another to PRESERVE FROM INJURY AND DECAY.

And for the purpose of attaining the highest degree of purity in the preparation of these Pills, Dr. Bradlee has, at a vast expenditure of time and money, invented and patented at Washington, a chemical and philosophical apparatus for distilling and refining vegetable extracts, called

THE SEVEN-FOLD FURNACE.

A powerful and novel machine—having Seven Fires and Seven Alembics, with distilling, condensing, and evaporating fixtures of a new and ingenious contrivance, capable of obtaining more than seven times the ordinary purity of any vegetable extract heretofore used in compounding medicine. The Balsamic and Preserving power of these Pills is also, by this invention, highly purified and refined, and so mingled with the operative medicine, that it repairs all the injuries created by Purgation as soon as they are caused, and strongly fortifies the system against future corruption and decay.

Let the public be no longer deceived by the advertisements of the "one remedy" doctors, who show their entire ignorance of the organic laws of the human system by supposing that a medicine which purges merely, without renovating or preserving can be a perfect remedy. For it is a fixed and immutable law of our being that there should be, in no case, Purgation without immediate Restoration, and hence it follows, and is proved to demonstration, that all Purgatives which DO NOT possess a saving and preserving power, are injurious, and injurious only—and possess NOT ONE REDEEMING QUALITY.

The whole theory of common drastic Purgation is based upon unnatural and absurd laws, and they who follow it fall victims to their own folly, and too late repent their temerity.

☞ BEWARE OF UNRELIEVED PURGATION! Purge and Preserve, or do not attempt to Purge at all.

☞ The celebrated PURIFYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, purify the body from corruption and preserve it from injury and decay by a single operation. They are a Universal Vegetable Purgative, of sovereign use in all diseases of the human system in which purgation is required, particularly in Jaundice, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas of the Skin, Scrofula, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Disorders, Liver Complaint, Fevers, Nervous Disorders, Inward Weakness, Cholic, Dysentary, Worms, Gout, Rheumatism, Female Complaints, Depression of Spirits, Debility of System, Fits, &c., &c.

☞ Price 25 cents per Box, with full directions, Essay on Health and Long Life, &c.

THE reasons why Clothing can be sold at this Establishment so much LOWER than at any other places are these:

First—Our retail sales are about ten times the amount of any other establishment in Boston.

Second—We do a sole Cash Business, consequently the purchaser does not have to pay for the defaulting debtor's clothes; and all the genteel class of trade that have been in the habit of ordering their clothes up town, and their bill sent once or twice a year, have found that they can make a SAVING OF ABOUT ONE HALF, by cash down, at OAK HALL, and can get a garment made in as good style, or a little better.

O'er all the ages of the earth without rival to shine.

To all nations we speak! for all nations we toil!
And we look for support in this glorious strife;
We resolve that no obstacle ever shall foil
The grand aim of our heart, while we linger in life!

We discard all the snares and the frauds of the trade
We lift up the standard of spotless reform;
And we trust that so long as that standard's display'd,
The smile of the world will defend from the storm.

We repose in the public a confidence strong,
And believe that they will not neglect our endeavor;
The success we have met has encouraged us long,
And we thank, and assure them 'we'll merit it ever.'

PARR'S LIFE PILLS—SUMMER MEDICINE.

THIS popular medicine should be taken by every one during their health. No matter how well you may feel, the change of season imperatively demands a cleansing of the system—and being without mercury, are peculiarly calculated for being taken with safety at this changeful period. The proprietors beg to state to the Spanish, Portuguese, German and French Houses, that this popular medicine is put up with wrappers and directions in each of those languages—accompanied with a neat book, with engravings, of the Life and Times of OLD PARR, whose prolonged life of 152 years has long been a subject of curious speculation to those who have wished 'for length of days.' Many medical men and those acquainted with physiology, have deduced from the history of Thomas Parr, that the use of a Herbal Medicine, and regularity of life, are the predisposing causes which led to the 'number of his days.' As this opinion is corroborated by an extract from Parr's Life, Will and Testament, such deduction is reduced to a certainty.

The subscribers having by purchase become the proprietors of this medicine, now offer it as a valuable remedy to the public. The hundreds of unsolicited testimonials of its efficacy in their possession, warrant their soliciting any one who may suppose Parr's Life Pills to be one amongst the many quack nostrums offered to the public, to convince themselves by a call at their office or upon any of their agents in New York, amongst whom they number all the principal Druggists.

F. BROWN'S Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters.

THIS is no quack nostrum; it is prepared from the best materials, and the receipt has been examined and approved by many of the first Physicians in the United States.

The true means of preserving the Health and Strength is to purify the blood and correct the unhealthy state of the bowels. For this purpose we recommend the Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters.

The component ingredient of these bitters is no secret. They are composed of a very strong preparation of the celebrated extract of Spanish Sarsaparilla and the extract of Tomatoes, with the addition of some of the most popular vegetable medicines the country affords.

This is the first time the medical virtues of SARSAPARILLA and TOMATOES have been combined; and the result has met the most sanguine expectations of the medical profession.—The whole vegetable kingdom does not furnish two substances so admirably adapted to purify, nourish and invigorate the human system. These bitters have all the effect of the most powerful purgatives when used in sufficient quantity, and yet are so mild in their operation that they may be given to persons in the most delicate health with perfect safety. They are also very agreeable to the taste.

These excellent bitters will be found a certain cure in all cases of Indigestion or Dispepsia, Jaundice, Loss of Appetite, General Debility, Faintness and Sinking of the Stomach, Lowness of spirits Costiveness, Determination of Blood to the Head, Pain in the Limbs and side, Diarrhœa, weakness, dizziness, cutaneous eruptions on the face and neck, hectic fever, night sweats, nervous and sick headache, acidity of stomach, bilious affections, piles, costiveness, and in all diseases caused by impurity of the blood, the debility of the system, or the unhealthy state of the stomach and bowels.

They are also exceedingly efficacious in restoring constitutions broken down by sedentary employments, and have been extensively used by clergymen, editors, printers, clerks, seamstresses, and numerous others whose health had been injured by confinement and close application, with the happiest results. They restore the action of the stomach, increase the quantity of the blood, and impart to the wan and emaciated system of the invalid the vigor and glow of true health.

These bitters are warranted to be a purely Vegetable compound—and mark this, ☞ They can never do the least injury in any case whatever.

They are kept by many persons as a Family Medicine and have been given to the youngest children, on account of the mildness of their operation, with excellent effect.

☞ Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters are sold wholesale and retail by F. BROWN, the Proprietor, No 68 Washington-st. Boston, and by the Druggists generally in the city and country towns.

POLITICAL.

Mr Hallet's Lucture.

Mr EDITOR: Having an hour's leisure this morning I will give it to Mr B. F. Hallet, the lecturer from Boston who addressed the Democracy at the City Hall on Wednesday evening.

I believe Mr Hallet has been considered, at least among the Whigs, as the most reckless and unprincipled demagogue to be found in the ranks of his party in Massachusetts, and I presume that every Whig who heard his speech the other evening will admit that he fully sustained his high reputation.

In manner he is a smooth, fluent and agreeable speaker. He seems to possess considerable talent and much ingenuity. His principle themes were Old Federalism, Dorr and the Tariff. He seemed at first exceedingly nervous at the little noise among the crowd near the door, and he and the chairman labored to impress upon the Whigs present the extreme propriety of their remaining perfectly silent. Of course the speaker was thus freed from all danger of being questioned by the Whigs, and he went on more at ease.

He endeavored to show that the present whig party is identically the same as the old federal Hartford Convention party of the last war, and is responsible for all its principles and acts, and attributed to those, "Old Federalists" a great variety of sins. This was at least unkind, in one of the young democracy, towards the numerous "Old Federalists" who are now leaders in that party.

But in his fury against "Old Federalism" he seems to have forgotten how very undemocratic is this doctrine of accountability of the child for the sins of the ancestor.

If Mr Hallet could prove that the present whig party is the legitimate descendent of the old federal party, so is James K. Polk the legitimate descendent of his own grandfather—that old tory of the Revolution. If then the Whigs are "Old Federalists," James K. Polk is a "British Tory." If the Whigs ought to be censured for the Hartford Convention, ought not James K. Polk to be hung as a British Spy?

It is now almost thirty years since the close of the last war when the Federal and Republican parties divided the country. Men under thirty were then unborn. Men under fifty were then too young to vote.

Nothing can be more unjust or dishonest than to attempt to excite a prejudice against the present Whig party, and to divert the attention of the people from the great principles now at issue, by this cry of Old Federalism. And yet Mr H. exhausted much eloquence in describing the sufferings of the seamen who were impressed by the British during the last war, charged the "Old Federalists" with being insensible to that suffering, and then endeavored to turn the feelings thus excited against the present Whig party. He did not inform the democracy of the fact, that Henry Clay was the great friend and advocate of 'Sailors Rights,'—and the main pillar of the republican party, who carried on the war in their behalf. And thus James K. Polk, then at an age when it ever patriotism must stir in a man's bosom, refused to join his colleagues and nominative to carry on the war, but found it convenient to visit his friends in North Carolina.

Mr Hallet endeavored to connect Lewis Strong one of the candidates for Elector in Massachusetts with old governor Strong, in this manner. The federal majority in the Legislature of Massachusetts during the last war had spread upon their records a resolve, that in the circumstances of that war it was immoral and irreligious to rejoice in the defeat of their enemies. He then stated that a few years since the democratic party in Massachusetts had introduced a resolve to have the former resolve expunged from the records, and that the Whigs, among whom was Lewis Strong had voted against it. Now if there was no lie upon the tongue of Mr Hallet in this matter, was there not a lie in his heart? Did he not mean to insinuate a falsehood? Did he not know that those who voted against expunging the resolve did so solely on the ground that they had no right to tamper with, alter, or deface the records of the State, and not because they approved of the resolve? I do not assert any thing on this subject, as I have no account of the transaction before me, but I know that the Whig party have never sanctioned that resolve; and that the Whig doctrine has always been that a legislative body has no right to destroy its own records. That doctrine has been confined, I believe, to the party not inappropriately called the Destructives.

Mr Hallet asserted roundly that the Whig party were endeavoring to place the political power of the country in the hands of a few rich men, and therefore entertained a deadly hostility against the elective franchise, and were endeavoring to deprive the mass of the people of the right to vote. And that assertion was made in the face of the fact that in the whig states of the Union the right of voting is as extensive as it is the democratic States. He insisted that the whigs were opposed to the present naturalization laws, and in proof of it said that Senator Archer of Virginia, wished to extend the period of residence before naturalization, to twenty one years; and thus to revive the Old Alien and sedition laws.

I do not know what may be the sentiments of Mr Archer, but I know this is a gross libel on the whig party. If the whigs had been in favor of such a law why did they not make such a law when they had a majority in both branches of Congress? If the Whig party is responsible for the individual opinion of every man in the party, then is every democrat responsible for the truth of Mr Hallet's statements—a responsibility which I am sure no honest man among them would assume.

Mr Hallet also said in this connection, in substance, that the Whig party, in the Whig city of Philadelphia, had got up a riot against the Irish.

As I never heard of this charge before, I believe the honor of its invention belongs exclusively to Mr Hallett.

He asserted that Governor Dorr was a martyr to the right of suffrage, and argued that the Whigs of Rhode Island and of the Union, in opposing and censuring Governor Dorr, were opposing and condemning the right of suffrage.

The right of suffrage was, under the charter, somewhat more restricted in Rhode Island than in any other State of the Union. The subject of extending this right has been occasionally discussed in the Rhode Island Legislature for the last twenty years. Under the auspices of T. W. Dorr that question was agitated with great fury in 1841. He and his associates called a mass meeting of the people, and without any pretence of law, summoned a Convention to frame a new constitution, and decided how that Convention should be chosen. This Convention called and selected without law, met in defiance of law, and agreed upon a constitution, and directed the manner in which it should be submitted to the people, and determined who should vote upon it, and who should not. The Dorrites pretend that they obtained a vote of about 14,000 in favor of this constitution, which would be a majority of the adult, white, male population of the State: but numerous frauds have been detected and it is certain that at other elections, guarded by the formalities of law, (though the right of suffrage was about equally extended,) that party could never muster 8,000 votes. The law and order party therefore contend, (and their facts seem to be conclusive,) that the Dorr party was always decidedly in the minority.

The government of Rhode Island, a government which had been in the undisputed exercise of authority for two hundred years, which carried that State through the American Revolution, and under which Rhode Island came into the Union, and the peaceable enjoyment of which was guaranteed by the constitution of the United States; a government which was highly praised by George Bancroft the present democratic candidate for Governor in Massachusetts, for the security it gave to liberty, and property; that government, also called a Convention to frame a new constitution. This Convention met and agreed upon a constitution which extended the right of suffrage to "every white male native citizen of the United States" of the age of twenty one years who had resided in the State two years, and in the town or city six months, and to all naturalized citizens who were freeholders. This was certainly as liberal an extension of the right of suffrage as exists in most of the States. It differs from the constitution of the Dorrites only in two particulars. The latter constitution required but one years residence and did not require the naturalized citizen to be a freeholder.

This constitution framed by the Convention called by the Government,—which granted all that the Dorrites originally asked, and which was very nearly the same as that which they had framed themselves, they now refused to accept. It was submitted to the people. The Dorrites exerted their whole strength against it, about 7,600, and a few of the law and order party, who did not wish for any change, also voted against it, or kept away from the polls; so that it failed of adoption by about six hundred.

The Dorrites however proceeded to elect Dorr Governor, and undertook to take possession of the Government by force of arms.

Mr Dorr then, was not contending for the right of suffrage, but for his own will, and for power. It was not that the lawless constitution was any better than the lawful one, but it was because it was their constitution, which they had lawlessly produced.

To compare Dorr, with Washington and the other heroes of our Revolution, as Mr Hallett did, is a gross libel on those departed patriots.

The law and order party, were not Whigs, nor the Dorrites Democrats; but Whigs and Democrats were found indiscriminately in both parties: and it was not till an advanced period of this contest, that it was seized upon and misrepresented by demagogues out of the State, among the foremost of whom was Mr Hallett, for the purpose of making out of it political capital.

Since the suppression of Dorr's rebellion the law and order party, or rather the government, have called a new Convention, and a constitution has been framed and adopted and is now in operation, which extends the right of suffrage as liberally and widely, as I understand, as it is extended in this State of Maine.

The Whigs have condemned Dorr and his infatuated followers, not because they were unfavorable to an extension of the right of suffrage in Rhode Island, but because they were opposed to lawless ambition, and dis... izing violence.

We have in this city a Police Court, organized under the laws of the State. Its Judge is appointed by law. If some of us in this city should become dissatisfied with that Court, and instead of proceeding according to law to procure its abolition or the removal of its Judge, we should raise a mob, and go up and pitch the Judge out of the window, and choose a new Judge in our own way, and arm ourselves to defend him in his authority, should we not be in rebellion against the State, and guilty of treason? Dorr's offence was still worse, because he was offered by the government substantially what he asked, and would not take it.

I know that one man of judicial learning, and some other men of respectable attainments have expressed an opinion in favor of the legality of Dorr's government, but I believe that when the subject is viewed from "the calm of history," a place will be assigned them, so far as this matter is concerned, of which their posterity will not be proud.

The dignity of the laws required that Dorr should be tried, and having been found guilty, that he should be sentenced; but quiet and good order being now restored, & the majesty of the law vindicated, it may be well to yield to the suggestions of mercy and pardon him whenever he applies for it, and perhaps without an application. Mr Dorr is certainly entitled to the sympathy of Mr Hallet and others out of his State, whose encouragement and support, (for party purposes as it would seem,) plunged him into those crimes for which he is now suffering. And this peculiar position of Mr Hallet may soften somewhat ... of his own conduct, in misrepresenting as he did the Rhode Island difficulties, and for repeatedly applying the term "Algerine" to the legal government of that State.

Mr Hallet asserted that the Democrats were in favor of a Revenue Tariff, with fair incidental protection to all American interests, and then gradually slid off into an argument of an hour, which seemed to be in favor of free trade. It was certainly directed against both the principle and the practice of protection. In the course of his speech he asserted that the Whig tariff of 1842 protected only one class, the manufacturers, and oppressed all other classes;—and yet he seemed aware that some of the productions of our Maine farms were protected, for he remarked that he understood some people down here pretended to rely on what they called statistics, and made calculations about potatoes, and eggs, and lumber, &c.; but he exhorted the democracy to look above these local matters, to disregard all arguments addressed to their pockets, to enter into no calculations of money or profit, but to raise their views to the elevation of principles.

Mr Hallet closed by exhorting the democracy not to commit the gross impropriety of voting for a duelist.

Did not this man and his whole party, not only repeatedly vote for General Jackson, but almost worship him as the greatest and best, calling him a second Washington, when they knew he was steeped to the lips in duelling, having killed his man, and never having expressed regret for it, or renounced or disapproved of the practice?

The history of Oliver Cromwell and the Long Parliament can furnish no grosser instance of hypocrisy than that of all these demagogues of the rostrum, and of the press, who supported General Jackson repeatedly for the presidency, knowing that he was a duelist, and now profess a pious horror for duelling, and object to Henry Clay on that account. If there is any thing which honest men, of all parties, have condemned and denounced, in all ages of the world, it is hypocrisy. It is astonishing that the honest, hearted rank and file of the democratic party do not purge and purify their party, by pitching these foul hypocrites over the sides of the democratic ship. If they attempt to sail their vessel with such a load of hypocrisy on board, they ought to expect it to go to the bottom; and they ought equally to fear that the contagion of these hypocrites will corrupt every thing in the ship.

I have devoted to Mr Hallet more ... space than I intended, but these Boston democrats who rely so much upon the supposed ignorance and gullibility of those they address, perhaps deserve a passing notice.

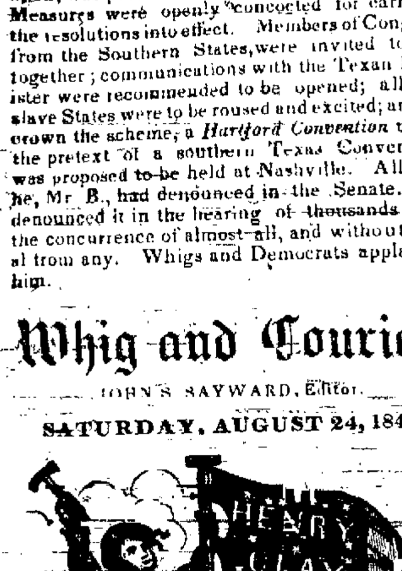

I had no opportunity to take notes of Mr Hallet's speech, and do not profess to have given generally his words, but I am confident that I have attributed to him nothing which he did not utter.

lieveing in the strength of the Texas question, and that the patriotic sympathies of the people might blind them to the consequence of rash counsels, the old nullifiers and disunionists of 1831 went boldly to work to accomplish the designs which they admit they began too soon then. Disunion, as a consequence of non-annexation, was proclaimed in hundreds of resolutions. Measures were openly concocted for carrying the resolutions into effect. Members of Congress from the Southern States, were invited to act together; communications with the Texan Minister were recommended to be opened; all the slave States were to be roused and excited; and, to crown the scheme, a Hartford Convention under the pretext of a southern Texas Convention, was proposed to be held at Nashville. All this he, Mr B., had denounced in the Senate. He denounced it in the hearing of thousands with the concurrence of almost all, and without denial from any. Whigs and Democrats applauded him.

Whig Meeting at Orono.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier.

We had a fine meeting in this town last evening. The Congregational meeting house was filled to overflowing. Mr Colton, the celebrated author of the Junius tracts, was present and addressed the audience in a speech that had one grievous fault—it was too short. For clear and luminous statement, condensation and force of argument, I have seldom, if ever, heard it equalled. Mr Colton talks as Junius writes. He undertook to prove that the duties on articles that can be produced in this country, provided they are not so high as to amount to a prohibition, instead of being a tax upon the consumer, operated almost invariably, if not always and inevitably, to release him from taxation. Undertook to prove it, did I say?—he did prove it. He cited many examples—stated facts in the knowledge of all of the vast reductions in prices on protected articles, as cottons, iron, &c.; proved that under a system of free trade or of revenue duties we should be continually paying taxes to the aristocracy of Great Britain: constantly pouring our treasures into the British Exchequer.—England, by her system of excise, direct taxation, &c, compels her laborers to work at least half of the time for the government. Fifty per cent. of the cost of every article manufactured in that kingdom consists of duties and taxations;—of a yard of cloth made there; not more than half of the cost is made up of the sums paid directly for the rude material and the labor incorporated into it, the other half is paid in one shape or another, in some mode of taxation, into the treasury of the nation, or the parochial and municipal treasuries, so that when we buy a yard of English cloth we pay one half of the manufacturers price to the support of the British government, the British church and municipal establishments—to the British aristocracy. That G. Britain, rather than lose our market, would reduce this 50 per cent. tax to 5 per cent. If we impose a protective duty she will reduce prices the amount of that duty unless it should be as large as the whole amount of her own excise, duties and exactions. Thus we, by our protective system and the competition among our own manufacturers, will not only reduce the prices of the protected articles, but will in reality oblige England herself to pay the duties on her exports to this country, and contribute largely to pay the expenses of our government.

Col McKenney was also here, in answer to a summons from the whig ladies of Orono, and in a speech of an hour and a half, abounding in wit, humor, argument, anecdote and illustration, riveted the attention of the audience, among whom I noticed several locos, who could not help laughing as heartily as did the whigs, and some of whom I saw cheering the gallant Col. with a perfect looseness. We were edified, instructed and amused. The whigs are wide awake—they feel the importance of the approaching elections—that their interests and rights are involved in the issue. They have a deep and abiding sense of their obligations and duties, and I believe are most thoroughly determined to perform them. If I am not mistaken many of our brethren and neighbors, who have always been with us in desiring to promote the welfare and prosperity of the country, but who have differed as to means and measures only, and have voted with the other party, have been thinking for themselves, are now judging for themselves, consulting their own good sense, and will be ready to decide as their own judgments and consciences shall dictate.—The time for party slang, party catch-words and party names has gone by. Yours, &c.

Orono, Aug. 22, 1844.

Editorial Correspondence.

Up Country, in the Bay State, Aug. 8, 1844.

To our old Cushioned Chair:

In the large commercial and the thriving manufacturing places in this State attention is paid to political affairs and on account of their numbers when they move in the matter they are sure to carry the State. We find however that in some of the towns no efforts are made to effect their organization and a few loco demagogues manage to keep the town in a majority in their favor, when by a little exertion on the part of the Whigs the town would throw a handsome Whig majority. This neglect on the part of the Whigs should not be continued, and by suitable efforts an immense Whig majority may be thrown over the loco and the "Liberty party" vote.

We have several times visited Lowell and find that within two years it has greatly increased, whole streets with stores and churches having grown up in that time. A large factory is in progress of erection and many buildings going up and the bustle of business on every hand.—A great city has grown up since we first visited this place twenty years since when but two factories were erected and the foundation of the first church was laid. A great city, with its twenty thousand inhabitants, and all the business and trade, churches and schools and other matters which such a population creates. Here are millions of capital employed in manufacturing, giving profitable employment, not only to thousands of persons within the factories but to a multitude of builders and other mechanics out of the factories. These thousands of well paid laboring people must be fed and clothed—their boarding houses and dwellings must be furnished they need boots and bonnets and books. Who shall furnish these things so great in number so large in amount if not the shop mechanics here? He who considers Lowell as a mere spot where is invested capital and the whole interest of which is the interest of that capital, makes a sorry and woful mistake. Let him come here and see the people and the multiplied relations and connections of capital and labor, and he will find himself forgetting the idea of capital in its thou- for labor the great interest that stands out paramount to all other.

We have heard locofoco demagogues in Maine rail lustily at the amount and influence of capital in this 'city of spindles,' and we have been deeply impressed with the desire to take some of them here upon the spot in the midst of the interest of labor and ask them to interrogate this working people, these numerous mechanics, these marketmen and butchers and bakers and milkmen these farmers with the loads of productions, if capital employed here is an injury or benefit. These girls here in hundreds from Maine, earning money to relieve the anxieties of their aged parents by lifting some mortgage from the old homestead, or to contribute to the education of some darling brother, or themselves, or to purchase their outfit for the matrimonial voyage of life—these any or all of them would tell these demagogues that the true interest of all were best promoted by a harmonious, steady good fellowship between capital and labor, the employer and the employed. They would tell them that the same policy in Maine that is pursued here would call home her sons and daughters to the companionship of their old friends and to the glowing hearts of their parents and would make the State, with her vast natural resources, great and prosperous.

We should be glad to speak of the number and excellence of the school houses here, of the high character of the schools and the excellent system by which they are managed—of the popular institutions here enjoyed by all, but I fear to enter just now upon these matters as we know that the great interests of the people and the country demand at this time that the columns of our paper be mainly devoted to political affairs bearing upon the approaching elections.—You must, then, old chair, allow me to pass these matters, with the expression of a hope, that, at some future day, I may use my notes upon these in some form for your benefit.

Our long ramble in the blueberry swamps and in pursuit of blackberries and the various toils after recreation, remind us frequently of your desirable company, but as your steady habits will not allow of your journeying we must forego the pleasure of meeting until we return.

GOOD NIGHT.

Accident.

Benjamin Shaw, Esq., at Great Works, Oldtown while engaged in one of the mills preparing a piece of furniture came in contact with a saw which lacerated one of his hands in a shocking manner, severing a thumb and two fingers.

[Reported for the Daily Whig & Courier.]

Proceedings of the Maine Annual Conference of the M. E. Church.

Ninth Day—Thursday, P. M., Aug. 22, 1844.

Conference opened at 2 o'clock in the usual way, by D. P. Quimby. After a brief consideration of the report of the Committee on Church Records, which was under examination at the close of the morning session, it was adopted. The committee on memoirs presented their report, which contained a brief account of the life and death of Martin Ward and L. S. Stockman, who had gone to their reward during the past year, Adopted.

After several reports, not of public interest, were disposed of, the following resolution on temperance was adopted—

Resolved, That we will continue to interest ourselves in the subject of temperance, in our charges by preaching upon the subject and using all other measures consistent with the gospel of Christ for the advancement of its interests.

The committee to whom was referred the tender of the trust of the Trustees of Maine Wesleyan Seminary, reported that we do not accept of said trust. Adopted.

The following resolutions in favor of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary were presented and adopted:

Whereas, this Conference has declined the tender of trust from the Trustees of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary, therefore

1. Resolved, That if the Trustees of the Seminary shall continue their efforts to carry on the School, and shall appoint an agent to collect funds for the relief of the Institution, we will cordially co-operate with the agent in this enterprise.

2. Resolved, That if an agent be appointed for the above mentioned purpose, we recommend that the agent delay the collection of the subscriptions he may obtain until a sufficient amount be subscribed to relieve the institution from all its embarrassments.

Conference closed with the benediction.

Bangor, Aug. 23d, 1844.

Kentucky.

The returns are all in at Frankfort except from three new Counties—Marshall, Perry and Letcher, which gave 357 Loco majority last year. Owsley for Governor is now 5,401 ahead. This will probably be reduced by the three Counties to a little less than 5,600, while on Lieut. Governor and Legislature the Whigs have about 10,000. This is better than we anticipated.

Indiana Election.

The Whigs have already 8 majority on joint ballot, with a chance for more. In 22 counties they have gained 1,105 on the popular vote from last year.

Missouri.

We have returns from the South Western Counties which settle the question. The 'Hards' have the State by some 4000 majority, and will be able to re-elect Benton to the Senate, with such a colleague as he shall prefer.

POCKET BOOK LOST.
LOST on the 22d inst. between Exeter Corner and Bangor, a Pocket Book containing between 35 and 40 dollars in money and about $2000 in notes and drafts.
